

Put the power and resources of the Corcoran brand to work for you.

Corcoran is uniquely qualified to present your property to the widest audience in the quickest possible time. This impressive capability will enable your property to generate the highest level of interest and achieve the maximum price.

The Corcoran name is synonymous with real estate expertise. We define the local neighborhood experts and marry it with the strength of a world-class brand. The Corcoran Group's combined marketing and public relations efforts position your property to reach the right target audience through key local, national and international online and print media outlets.

Corcoran is recognized as the technology leader in the industry. With almost 90% of buyers commencing their real estate search online, your property benefits from being featured on the most innovative and effective website in the industry. Corcoran.com has been named as the #1 luxury real estate site in New York and ranks among the top 1% of the most heavily trafficked internet sites in the world.